PDF Express is added to the PrintExpress range

IPA Systems Ltd announce the release PDF Express as part of their PrintExpress digital workflow system.

PDF Express offers a cost effective method for publishing centres to transmit single or paired PDF files to another PrintExpress system and still retain the degree of control and connectivity that PrintExpress offers.

Available on both Solaris and Windows operating systems, it comprises of PDF/PostScript Input and PDF/PostScript Spooler modules. At the publishing centre files are transferred to PDF Express which manages the transmission to the print centre and allows staff at the publishing centre to monitor and control processing of their jobs at the print centre.

PDF Express is scalable and can be expanded to give PDF Page Pairing and has support for the proofing options available with PrintExpress.
